SCOUTING, Boy Scout Program

Boy Scouts endeavors to develop American citizens who are physically, mentally and emotionally fit; have a high degree of self-reliance as evidence in such qualities as initiative, courage, and resourcefulness; have personal values based on religious concepts; have the desire and skills to help others; understand the principles of the American social, economic, and governmental systems; are knowledgeable about and take pride in their American heritage and understand our nation's role in the world; have a keen respect for the basic rights of all people; and are prepared to participate in and give leadership to American society. This is accomplished through a year-round outdoor-centered program uniquely designed to meet the developmental needs of young men.

Cub Scout Program

Cub Scouting is a year-round family-oriented program designed to meet the developmental needs of young boys and their families through fun and challenging activities that promote life skills, positive family relationships, cooperative skills while working with adults and peers, citizenship, character development, spiritual growth, physical fitness and a willingness to do his best. Family involvement is an essential part of Cub Scouting program and parents are encouraged to play an active role.

Learning For Life

The Learning For Life program provides programs that are designed to support schools and other youth-serving organizations in their efforts toward preparing youth to successfully handle the complexities of today's society and to enhance their self-confidence, motivation, and self-worth. Learning for Life also helps youth develop social and life skills, assists in character development, and helps them formulate positive personal values. The program offers a Character Education program for elementary, middle and high schools, as well as the Exploring program.

Venture Scout Program

Venturing is a youth development program of the Boy Scouts of America for young men and women who are 14 (and have completed the eighth grade) through 20 years of age. Venturing's purpose is to provide positive experiences to help young people mature and to prepare them to become responsible and caring adults. Venturing is based on a unique and dynamic relationship between youth, adult leaders, and organizations in their communities. The result is a program of exciting and meaningful activities that helps youth pursue their special interests, grow, develop leadership skills, and become good citizens.
